

Former Elba Man Resigns Coaching; With Funeral Firm

James Bowdoin has resigned as head track mentor and backfield coach in football of the Tennessee High Vikings, Bristol, Tenn., to become associated with David W. Akard, his father-in-law, in the Akard Funeral Home at Bristol.

School Superintendent D. F. Addison said that "Mr. Bowdoin's resignation has been accepted with regret," and that he "has done an unusual job in the classroom as well as carrying out his coaching duties in a satisfactory manner."

Athletic Director Clayton Powers, head coach of the Vikings, added that "we are sorry to lose Jim. He has been an excellent coach, both in football and track." He will be hard to replace.

Bowdoin, a former football and track star at the University of Alabama, joined the Viking coaching staff two years ago. He was appointed head track coach last spring and piloted the Vikings to their first Big Seven track championship in recent years.

An all-state football star at Elba High, Bowdoin accepted an athletic scholarship to the University of Alabama. He played both fullback and halfback for the Crimson Tide, and was a varsity track man for two seasons.

After graduating from Alabama in June, 1957, he became head track and backfield coach in football at Elba High during the 1957-58 school year. He joined the "Bristol" High coaching staff in the fall of 1958.

Mr. Bowdoin is married to the former Louise Akard. They have a five-week old daughter, Lavonda.

A LOOK- AT THE FUTURE

Future Growth By Development Of Rivers Is Outlined

The Elba Chamber of Commerce was told at a membership meeting Tuesday that development of the Choctawhatchee-Pea River system would increase land values within 50 miles of the waterway to $1,500 an acre.

The speaker was J. P. Jones, prominent business man of Geneva and past president of the Choctawhatchee-Pea River Development Association, who continued that "the only thing that will keep the waterway from being developed is a lack of interest by the people within the watershed."

Study Under Way

Ronald Wise of DeFuniak Springs, president of the river development association, and Mr. Jones were featured speakers of the meeting, and told of a recent meeting with U. S. Army Engineers in Mobile who are in the midst of a feasibility study of the waterway made possible by an appropriation of $85,000 by Congress.

"The study was due to be completed sometime after the first of next year but the engineers have found so many angles that it now appears it will be the middle of next year before a full report is ready," said Mr. Wise.

Enterprise Plans Drive

Mr. Wise and Mr. Jones told of meeting with civic clubs last week in Enterprise and of the high interest shown by the business men there who are planning a drive for members of the association. "Located halfway between the Choctawhatchee and the Pea rivers, they realize its value to them but Elba is sitting right on the river," one of the speakers said.

"You are all familiar with development of the Warrior-Tombigbee river and what it has meant to cities in that basin," Mr. Jones said, "yet the Warrior-Tombigbee carries 37 cu. ft. of water per minute or 24 million gallons per day. Just compare this with the Choctawhatchee-Pea River which carries 798 cu. ft. per minute or 516 million gallons per day, or 33 times as much."

"The river development project far more than barge traffic, but it means construction of hydro-electric plants and flood control. We at Geneva and Johnson we could have selected and there is no doubt in my mind we will get the Republicans out of the White House in November."

With reference to his first ballot vote for Kennedy for presidential nominee, Mr. Stephens said "I voted my convictions and if I had it to do over again, I would vote the same way."

Mr. Stephens said that press reports from the convention were at variance with what he actually said with reference to his choice for Kennedy. "I said that I had made known my choice of Kennedy before I left Elba and that 85 per cent of the people I talked with said Kennedy would be the best choice," he explained.

Although Mr. Stephens was the first Alabama delegate to announce for Kennedy in advance of the convention, there were 3 1-2 votes cast by seven delegates for Kennedy on the first ballot. Twenty votes went to Johnson, 3 1-2 for Symington and the remaining votes divided at a half-vote each among Stephens, Faubus, Meyer and Smathers.

He has also completed advanced military training and will receive a commission as second lieutenant in the U. S. Army upon graduation.

At the meeting, Covington Electric members will elect one member to a three-year term on the five-man Board of Trustees, and receive progress reports from President J. L. Bryant and Manager Basil Thompson.

Elba Legionnaires Attended State Meet Last Weekend

Three members of Culver Post No. 42, American Legion, and Auxiliary attended the 42nd annual convention of the Alabama Department of the American Legion in Mobile last weekend.

They were Maxwell Reeves, Sr., secretary - treasurer of the post; Haywood Grimes, adjutant, and Mrs. Haywood Grimes, secretary of the Auxiliary.

A citation was awarded to Mrs. Lamar S. Ruiter, Sr., in appreciation of her compiling a history of the Elba post. Mrs. Ruiter was not present.

Those attending from Elba said the convention was one of the largest and most successful ever held. One of the highlights was a sea food dinner given by the Post No. 3, Mobile.

Guest speakers included William Burke of Los Angeles, candidate for national commander; Dr. E. T. York, director of the Extension Service, Auburn University, and C. C. Horton, head of the veterans administration, Montgomery.

F. R. Albertson of Camden, was elected State Commander, and Irvin L. Johnson, of Elba, was elected Ninth Area Vice Commander.

The two were in an argument over money when Sio slapped Thigpen, and Thigpen replied by drawing a 25 calibre pistol and shooting him in the stomach, the sheriff's investigation showed.

The shooting occurred Sunday about 4 p.m. at the home of Leonard Parker, negro, on the River-Road - Samson cut-off.

Mr. Stephens said that press reports from the convention were at variance with what he actually said with reference to his choice for Kennedy. "I said that I had made known my choice of Kennedy before I left Elba and that 85 per cent of the people I talked with said Kennedy would be the best choice," he explained.

THE BEST WAY TO SAVE

There are very definite and logical reasons for those who work in Elba to have their homes here too.

The first and biggest reason is that it is less expensive to have a home near your work.

Money spent in travel is gone, never to return. Money spent on a home is not only money saved, but it is money that will increase in value from year to year.

In almost any large industry it will be found that about one-third of the employees are actually saving, another third just about breaks even, and the other third couldn't live two weeks without borrowing money. The ratio is not confined to income levels. Some of those in the higher income levels are less financially sound than others whose weekly pay is far less.

Ask any successful business man about the wisdom of investing in a home. Ask any loan officer of any bank how much more readily he will lend money to someone who owns his own home than to someone who doesn't.

We predict that everyone will tell you that the best way to save is by making payments on a home.

There is still another factor about living in the city where you work, though it is one that cannot be shown on a balance sheet. There is greater satisfaction in living that way. When you work in one city and live in another, you are living a divided life.

When you both live and work in the same city you can become a part of the community and feel a greater satisfaction in living.

SAVES ON ASPHALT

The State Finance Department this week reported savings in the purchase of a single road-building material—total more than one-third million dollars in the 18 months since Gov. John Patterson took office. The material is liquid asphalt, which is used in road maintenance. The huge saving resulted from a reduction in cost—due to quantity purchasing and competitive bidding—of only a penny or so a gallon.

The home of Donald McCollough, on the Wood and Grove road four miles from Elba, was left a complete loss when the house was suddenly enveloped in flames, apparently from a lightning bolt, while all the family was away.

Neighbors Saw Fire

Neighbors saw the fire and called the Elba Volunteer Fire Department but the house was wrapped in flames when they arrived. All they could do was use the truck chemical extinguisher to save a pump house.

Mr. McCollough was at work at the time. He was at the home of a neighbor. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The home of Rufus Adams, negro, on Troy highway, was slightly damaged by fire while the family was away but the house was saved by a pump house.

Apparently a lightning bolt ignited an electric outlet which set fire to a couch. Firemen were called and extinguished the fire.

Miles was driving south on Troy highway when he crashed into the "island" at the intersection, lost control of the car, ran across the road and into the curb on the opposite side of the street.

"This is an increase in number of beneficiaries of about 10 percent since February, 1959, the previous date for which Coffee county figures are available," he said.

Nationally, about 13 and 3-4 million persons were receiving old age, survivors, and disability insurance monthly benefits at the end of 1959 at an annual rate of more than $10 billion. At the close of 1959—the first year in which monthly benefits were payable—beneficiaries throughout the nation totaled 200,000. Almost half a million disabled-worker beneficiaries and their dependents received benefits at a yearly rate of over $100 million in December, 1959.

The number of wives, husbands and children of disabled worker beneficiaries receiving benefits increased sharply in 1959. Such benefits were first payable for September, 1958. Nationally, from February to December, 1959, the number of these beneficiaries more than doubled—from 69,000 to 176,000.

Payments to a retired worker with no dependent's receiving benefits averaged $89 a month nationally at the end of last December; to a retired couple, both of whom were receiving benefits, the average payment was $121. The average for a widow with two young children was $169.

By contrast, Mr. Scott recalled that when benefits first became payable in 1940, the average monthly payment to a retired worker with no dependents receiving benefits was $22 a month and to a retired couple the average payment was $36.

As social security celebrates its Silver Anniversary the original Act was signed into law on August 14, 1935, about 74 million working people are insured for retirement or disability, and to a retired couple the average payment was $169.

For the entire State of Alabama, old-age, survivors, and disability insurance payments beneficiaries at the rate of $10,684,151 per month. Benefits totaling $127,603,812 were paid in Alabama during 1959.
